Safety Info

Swim

- Wetsuits are compulsory.
- If you get into difficulty, stay calm, relax and raise your arm in the air. A kayaker will come to your assistance. Listen to their advice. It is virtually impossible to sink in a wetsuit!!
- Ensure you wear the allocated swim cap, it is brightly coloured and has your race number on.
- Competitors are asked to be careful on entry and exit from the lake, there is a wire fence to the left on entry and right on exit. It will be marked but please take care to avoid.

Bike

- The cycle course is all on public highways so you must obey the Highway Code. Marshals will not and cannot stop traffic.
- The course includes 5 right turns. Most are from minor road to minor road, you must still give way.
- One right turn is on the busier Tirril to Yanwath road onto a quiet country road. This will be well signed for motorists BUT you must ensure you check before moving to centre of road and give way to approaching traffic.
- The bike course includes a descent through the village of Askham at the bottom of which is a narrow bridge and sharp left bend. You must take care at this location. There will be a marshal with a red flag here; this is just to warn you of the impending bend.

First aid cover will be in force for the entire event and a St John's ambulance will be on the course throughout the day. All event staff will be able to summon assistance at short notice.
